

Interdisciplinary Professional Studies

Complete your degree and upgrade your skills!

For job applicants holding a high school diploma and no college degree, finding “bachelor’s degree” listed as required education on every job posting can be very discouraging. A bachelor’s degree in interdisciplinary studies allows you to take an active role in designing your own educational plan, which makes it a great choice if you’re looking for a degree to best qualify you for the jobs you want. Transfer up to 90 credits from prior college courses, earn your bachelor’s degree faster and begin building your exciting new career, all from the comfort of your own home. Herzing’s program is 100% online.

There isn’t a perfect degree program for every job. An evolving global economy rewards a flexible workforce prepared with a strong foundation in real, career-focused knowledge and skills. The Herzing University online interdisciplinary studies program is built for job-seeking students looking to complete their bachelor’s degree and build their own unique career path.

The HERZING Difference

A FEW POSSIBLE WAYS STUDENTS CAN BUILD A DEGREE TO MATCH THE CAREER OF THEIR CHOICE

- Students working in a healthcare institution looking ahead to qualify for administrative positions may concentrate their study in business and healthcare management.
- Students working in IT interested in working in the government or public safety fields may consider concentrating in network security and criminal justice.
- Students who dream of running their own business in the fast-paced technology industry may choose to concentrate in business and network security.

BENEFITS OF EARNING AN INTERDISCIPLINARY DEGREE

- Better qualify for the job. Many good jobs, Employers with a unique approach to their workforce may require a unique set of skills, and an interdisciplinary studies degree with relevant concentrations can help show you've got what it takes.
- Adaptability. The modern economy is always in flux and there isn't always a degree relevant to every new opportunity. A multidisciplinary focus can help you adapt more smoothly to changes within your field.
- Earn your degree faster. Depending on the prior college classes you've taken, you may be able to transfer much more of your credit compared to a traditional bachelor's degree program.
